G. Richard Cohen, M.D. Named Among
Best Doctors In America 2008

January 29, 2008 -- Palm Beach County, Florida — G. Richard Cohen, M.D. has been named among "Best Doctors In America." Best Doctors is an international organization serving insurers, employers and health plans and more than 10 million people in 30 countries. Founded in 1989 by two Harvard Medical School professors, Best Doctors is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME®), the agency responsible for certifying physicians continuing medical education.

The organization believes that doctors have unique perspective about who is at the top of their profession, using state of the art technology and technique. Their standard for selection includes consideration of whom they personally would turn to for care when faced with a serious medical problem. Chosen by his colleagues, Dr. Cohen is listed among his peers in worldwide database of 50,000 top medical specialists in more than 400 subspecialties.

Using continuous peer-to-peer surveys, Best Doctors identifies specialists who are considered by fellow physicians to be the most skilled in their fields and most qualified for reviewing and treating complex medical conditions. The polling process is anonymous and confidential, qualitative and quantitative. Research is conducted to establish detailed profiles of each physician including his or her practice, research programs and diagnostic treatment and procedures. Best Doctors believes that physician insight on best care available to people is the key to empowering consumers.

Dr. Cohen has practiced in Palm Beach County since 1985 and is a diplomate of the American Board of Ophthalmology. Dr. Cohen is a research investigator for a variety of ocular diseases and has published his findings in numerous medical journals.
