MonaLisa Touch

Don't let intimacy issues hold you back.

Now there's something you can do that really works.

When estrogen levels start to decline, many changes occur. Millions of women experience symptoms such as vaginal dryness, itching, burning, or painful intercourse as a consequence of these changes. Many women suffer silently, and those who seek treatment find their options limited to estrogen therapy, which isn't for everyone.

Now there's a better way.

Q & A

Q: What happens during treatment?

A: The procedure will seem similar to your annual exam, and will likely be even quicker. Your healthcare provider will insert the laser into your vagina and deliver laser energy "pulses." The total procedure time is less than 5 minutes.

Q: Does it hurt?

A: The laser energy itself is virtually painless. Some patients report mild discomfort with the laser tip insertion during the first procedure due to vaginal dryness.

Q: How many treatments are required?

A: To obtain optimal results, we suggest 3 treatments spaced 6 weeks apart.

Q: How soon can I expect to see results?

A: Many patients have reported that they experience relief right away. Virtually all patients have experienced relief by the second treatment.
