Platelet Rich Fibrin Treatments

For Skin Rejuvenation and Hair Restoration

Platelet Rich Fibrin, also known as "PRF," is an aesthetic treatment whereby a person's own blood (autologous) is applied or injected to the skin or the scalp for rejuvenation and regeneration, respectively. The PRP can be administered several ways, either individually or in combination with other treatments: injection, micro-needling, and/or mask technique; with dermal fillers and Sculptra.

- The PRF product injected is 100% your own blood plasm + platelets:
 - eliminating any risk of allergy and adverse reactions
 - activates your growth factors and stem cells to multiply existing cells and rebuild new cells
- PRF is used to:
 - Strengthen skin and fill in hollowness under eyes
 - Enhance lip volume and improve fine lines and wrinkles around the mouth
 - Increase effectiveness of other procedures: Microneedling
 - Regrow hair and eyebrows
 - Improve skin texture, crepiness, elasticity and color
 - Reduce all types of scars
 - Boost outcomes of other products: dermal fillers and Sculptra

PRF for Scar Management

PRP Injections can be used anywhere on the body

Atrophic Rolling Acne Scarring is difficult to treat, even with combination treatments. This client is Pre- and immediately Post- treatment:

Cannula Subcision with PRF & Microneedling

Cost: $1500 per treatment (1-3 treatments required)

PRF for Hair Restoration

Platelets are cells that clot blood and contain 7 different growth factors. When PRF is injected it causes mild inflammation, triggering the healing cascade, stimulating skin and hair cells to regenerate and rebuild. PRF is indicated for a variety of conditions and safe for everyone and all skin types. PRF is the ultimate ORGANIC aesthetic treatment because it is made from your own blood. It can be a stand-alone treatment or used in combination to enhance other aesthetic therapies.
