

COMPASSIONATE FAMILY MEDICINE

WEBSITE PRIVACY POLICY

The information on this website is provided by Compassionate Family Medicine and we are committed to protecting the privacy of our users. Compassionate Family Medicine does not sell, trade, or rent the personal identifying information of its users to third parties. Compassionate Family Medicine collects no personal identifying information about its users except when specifically and knowingly provided by such users. A user's personal identifying information may be used by Compassionate Family Medicine to improve its services to its users. Users who have requested updates may receive information from Compassionate Family Medicine on new therapies, products and services that may help them better manage their care. Any information received is not an endorsement or opinion of Compassionate Family Medicine regarding any treatment option, product or service.

Users should know that Compassionate Family Medicine's website www.cfmsyracuse.org will place a "cookie" in the browser files of your computer. This cookie does not contain any personal identifying information. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but a user can usually modify their browser to prevent cookies from being accepted at any time. This cookie is merely for convenience for returning users.