OUR HISTORY

EXCEPTIONAL CARE AND CUSTOMER SERVICES

Dr. Mildred Donis Silva is board certified family physician who has been practicing medicine for more than 20 years. She began as a radiation oncologist treating cancer patients. She served as the medical director for the Health Department's cancer prevention program in Puerto Rico, responsible for the government program for the entire island. As a radiation oncologist she was only able to intervene in the treatment of patients during the late stages of cancer, and her role limited her to treating only the cancer, and not the rest of the patient's conditions.

Her passion for treating the whole patient lead Dr. Donis Silva to start her family practice in Central Florida over 20 years ago. Since then she has developed deeper into the early detection, treatment, and prevention of chronic illnesses. This ignited her interest in Age-Management Medicine and inspired her to found the Center for Individualized Medicine and Age-Management, or CIMA. Dr. Donis Silva is dedicated to the highest quality of patient care, and to staying on the cutting edge of treatment options.

Dr. Donis Silva understands that medicine is not about managing disease, but rather about healing patients, and taking them to the peak of their health.
