

Key Components of Functional Medicine

- Treat the whole person, not the disease
- All of the body's functions depend on one another — the whole is only as strong as its weakest link
- Health is a state of balance
- Health is physical, emotional, mental, & social
- Prevention is better than cure
- Genes and Environment are together responsible for every aspect of health or disease