Dr Jan Steele, Lac, OMD

Los Angeles, CA

I've had CFIDS (Chronic Fatigue Immune Dysfunction Syndrome) and EI/MCS (Environmentally Ill with Multiple Chemical Sensitivities) since 1987. I saw 17 physicians and they all gave up on me. I was becoming progressively worse. Then I miraculously discovered Dr Devi and her NAET treatments and I am here to say it really works. NAET literally saved my life and gave me a second chance to live a full life again!

NAET: What is it?

NAET is an allergy desensitization technique which uses Muscle Response Testing to indicate kinetic imbalances in the body caused by allergens. The treatment then consists of stimulating, with acupuncture needles, specific points along the spine. Dr. Devi S. Nambudripad, DC, LAc, RN, PhD discovered NAET in 1983. She has since complete extensive research and development for this new and effective approach for the diagnosis and elimination of allergies.

NAET combines Eastern and Western medical systems and views allergies in terms of the effect they have on the energy flow of the body. In an allergic person, the allergic substance (called an allergen) is perceived by the body as a threat to it's well-being. When contact is made with an allergen, it causes obstruction in the energy pathways, disrupting the normal flow of energy through the body's electrical circuits. blockage begins the chain of events that develops into an allergic response.

This obstruction begins the chain of events that develop into an allergic response. By reprogramming the autonomic nervous system and removing the energetic obstructions, allergens are treated and cleared one at a time in a specific sequence.

NAET allows the body to regain balance and function. Allergy sensitivities can be identified through a blood test and through Muscle Response Testing. The treatment stimulates pressure points along the spine while the patient is holding a vial of the allergen to be cleared. Acupuncture needles are then inserted to stabilize the treatment. The Allergenic substance must then be completely avoided for 25 hours

Currently, conventional medicine has several methods for diagnosing allergies which include the intradermal test, patch test, scratch test, and various blood tests such as the RAST test and the ELIZA test. The standard treatment is drug therapy using either antihistamines, steroids or allergy shots to control allergic symptoms. Unfortunately, this does not correct the underlying problem and often the allergy sufferer experiences serious long-term side effects. The most effective treatment option until now has been complete avoidance of the offending allergen(s) which can be difficult and in some cases impossible.

Nambudripad's Allergy Elimination Techniques is an innovative treatment for allergies that is completely natural, painless and non-invasive. This method can be used safely on patients of any age. NAET can also be used to treat healthy individuals with hidden allergies that could cause illness in the future. In addition, NAET can complement other medical therapies requiring the use of pharmaceutical drugs
