KNIFESTYLES OF THE RICH & FAMOUS

FOREHEAD

"She appears to have had Botox to the brow area to lift and open her eyes as well as smooth out her forehead [$2,000 a year]," observes Mount Kisco, New York, dermatologist Dr. David Bank.

CHEEKS

"The apples of her cheeks look fuller and more lifted, probably due to filler such as Juvéderm, Voluma or Sculptra," says Dr. Bank. "The injections [up to $5,000] provide a more youthful look."

Botox Is the New Black refined nose, which is suggestive of rhinoplasty." Meanwhile, Mount Kisco, New York, cosmetic dermatologist Dr. David Bank (who, similarly, doesn't call the star a patient) suggests, "Likely injections of Botox and fillers in her forehead, cheeks and lips have given Laura better definition of facial structure, which creates a natural, attractive appearance." The tone of the former model's skin has improved, too, notes Dr. Bank, "probably from fraxel, VBeam or chemical peels [ranging from $200 to $4,000] to the face and neck to fade sunspots, freckling and redness." She may even have used the topical prescription medicine Mirvaso, he adds, which constricts blood vessels to reduce redness. In any case, Laura's work is very "high quality," he says. Just like her performances! &

The Man's View

BEFORE OR AFTER Hilary Duff

Since 2003 (left), the former Disney darling has grown into her looks — with a little help, doctors speculate, from an apparent rhinoplasty to make her nose thinner and straighter. While the procedure, which the 27-year-old has denied, is a big ticket item, the Liza Minnelli star made a wise investment, according to guys we polled. Most overwhelmingly preferred Hilary's nose, more balanced features over the book-faced look of pretenses. That kind of approval? Priceless!

MIRACLE IN A BOX

POLISHED SKIN IS YOUNGER SKIN. There's no faster anti-ager than exfoliation. And this magical scrub whisks away dead cells while repairing.
