

Gastroenterologist - Advanced GI Opportunity in Richmond, Virginia

Richmond Gastroenterology Associates, Inc. (RGA)

Richmond Gastroenterology Associates is seeking an Interventional Endoscopy Physician with a 2-year partnership track, to join and grow our well-established, privately owned GI practice in Richmond. We partner with community health systems in offering comprehensive, interventional endoscopy services, including ERCP/EUS, RFA, endoscopic suturing, ESD, TIF, etc.

One of RGA's founding principles is to provide Central Virginians with cost-effective, high quality GI healthcare, and to the extent possible, remove access barriers for patients and families in need of that care. RGA's physicians achieve work/life balance through a 4.5-day work week, and call responsibility during employment and partnership at 1:10.

Along with a generous salary, additional benefits include malpractice coverage, paid time off, comprehensive medical and dental insurance, life and long-term disability benefits, flexible spending plans, health savings accounts, 401(k) and profit sharing, CME allowance, and relocation assistance.

Established over 40 years ago, Richmond Gastroenterology Associates continues to be one of Central Virginia's largest GI practices, with 18 Board-Certified Gastroenterologists, 10 Advanced Practitioners, and locations North and South of the James River, including the Tri-Cities area. Our physicians perform endoscopic procedures on our commercially insured patients at the Virginia Endoscopy Group at a fraction of the cost of other outpatient facilities.

The capital of Virginia, and among America's oldest major cities, Richmond is a wonderful place to live, practice medicine and raise a family. With a metropolitan area population of over a million, Richmond offers the perfect balance of big city excitement and small-town charm. The cost of living is very reasonable; traffic congestion is minimal.
