Dear Patient:
For your convenience and safety, we are introducing a computerized prescription program that will improve both the accuracy and convenience of prescribing medications. This program will allow for the electronic transmission of most of our prescriptions directly to your pharmacy of choice and will eliminate your waiting time. In most cases, it will also accommodate the transmissions of your prescription to mail order pharmacies.

To implement this new program, we need to collection some information from you on your pharmacies of choice. We will define one pharmacy as your MAIN pharmacy; however, you may also provide the information for additional pharmacies to be used as alternative. In addition, if you have a mail order benefit program, please provide that information by selecting the appropriate box below.

We understand that you may not have the complete pharmacy information with you today. Please provide any information possible regarding the location (street, city, phone, fax) since any information provided will be helpful.

Assignment and Release/Financial Responsibility

What is a co-pay?

A co-pay is the small amount you have to pay to access medical care according to your insurance contract. In some cases, it might be $5-$30 but with some insurances, it would be a percentage of your bill (10% is common). This is supposed to provide a slight incentive for you to visit the doctor less and thereby avoid overuse of medical services. Medicare patients don't pay a co-pay "up front", but they are responsible for a small portion of the bill.

What is a deductible?

A deductible is the amount of money that a patient must pay out of pocket before the insurance carrier is responsible for any charges. The average deductible ranges from $100 TO $10,000 and once this has been met the insurance company will begin to pay for covered services. Medicare patients are responsible for a $148 deductible at the beginning of each year.

Why do I have to pay my co-pay and/or deductible?

When you sign up with an insurance carrier, you basically sign a contract which stipulates that you are obligated to pay your copay and/or deductible in certain instances. That usually means that you are required to pay a co-pay and/or deductible for all office visits, including follow-up examinations, outpatient surgical procedures done in our office, etc.

Why do you collect co-pay instead of billing me like my last doctor?

It is much more efficient to collect the co-pay at the time of service. Otherwise it becomes more difficult and expensive to deal with administratively. It needs to be entered in the computer, bills must be mailed, and our billing person will need to track the account for payment, etc. Higher administrative costs in the office ultimately result in higher medical costs for the patient. This policy is not something we can negotiate or change.

Why can't you just "write off" my co-pay and/or deductible?

There are several reasons why this is not a good idea. First, since your insurance "contract" stipulates that you must pay a co-pay and/or deductible, waiving this fee violates your contract. Second, when we sign up with your insurance company, we also sign a contract that says we will collect copays and/or deductible as stipulated in the contract. Third, if the doctor gives you a discount by waiving your co-pay and/or deductible and then bills the insurance company without giving them the same "discount", it could be considered insurance fraud. Thus, many medical billing consultants say that if you waive the co-pay, you cannot bill the insurance company. This rule has effectively eliminated "professional courtesy" which existed when I was a kid. Doctors used to routinely treat each other and their families "for free", but since everyone is insured these days, everyone must pay a copay.

I, the undersigned certify that I (or my dependent) have insurance and assign directly to Great Lakes Foot and Ankle, all insurance benefits, if any, otherwise payable to me for services rendered. I understand that I am personally responsible to pay all charges that are not covered by my insurance, including by not limited to, co-pays, deductibles, and non-coved services. I further understand I am responsible for any collection and/or legal fees incurred in the collection of any past due charges. I hereby authorize the doctors to release all information necessary to secure the payment of benefits. I authorize the use of this signature on all insurance submissions.
